Colorado Sportsmen's Organizations:

I am writing to seek your help filling a vacancy on the Wildlife Council. The Council, formally known as the Colorado Wildlife Management Public Education Advisory Council (WMPEAC), was conceived and developed by a coalition of hunters, anglers and conservationists working together with livestock and agriculture organizations, and created by the Colorado legislature in 1998. By statute, its mission is to oversee the design of a comprehensive media-based public information program to educate the general public about the benefits of wildlife, wildlife management, and wildlife-related recreational opportunities in Colorado, specifically hunting and fishing. For more information on the Council, including the history and past commercials, please visit <http://www.wildlife-management-education.org>.

The nine-member Council seeks to fill one vacancy, the "West Slope Anglers" representative. The nominee must be a Colorado resident who purchases fishing licenses on a regular basis in Colorado, and must be nominated by an organized sports person group with regional or statewide membership. Council members travel to Denver for one meeting every other month, and have a strong interest in communicating the benefits of wildlife, wildlife management, and hunting and fishing to the general public. Please mail or email nominations on your organization's letterhead, including a description of the candidate's background and qualifications, no later than October 31, 2011, to:

Windi Padia, Education Section Manager

Sincerely,
